

COMMUNIQUÉ

Being a communication to residents about various items

Dear fellow Residents,

18th September, 2017

A gentle reminder that the Nature and Birding group will be having a meeting at 10.30am on Tuesday, 19th September, in the Clubhouse. Dick Sheppard has got an interesting DVD to show us. He looks forward to seeing you there and extends a warm welcome to any new residents who may wish to come.

Inherit South Africa presents My Father's Coat, the acclaimed story of South Africa's history by renowned speaker, Michael Charton.

Charton condenses the narrative of South Africa into five bite-size stories as told from the individual viewpoints of five prominent and directly interlinked protagonists spanning 200 turbulent years: Mzilikazi, Kruger, Rhodes, Smuts and Mandela. The fact that the lives of these men overlapped creates the opportunity to relate the same pivotal encounters through opposing sets of eyes, illuminating and embracing the realities of the world in each man's perception.

Charton's belief is that the nation's past should not be used as a tool to inspire fear and division, but as a source of unity and healing. This decade-long project has resulted in a unique product which brings a new clarity to a notoriously complex subject.

Drinks and snacks are provided.

Venue: South African National Museum of Military History, 22 Erlswold Way, Saxonwold.

When: the next date where seats are available is - 7th February 2018

Time: 6pm for 7pm, until 9pm

Cost: R250

Marilyn Maclachlan and Judy Stuart will be going to this talk. If anybody else is interested in attending, please notify Ian Stuart on ian.stuart@mweb.co.za by Wednesday 27th September so that bookings can be made while seats are still available, Sept, Oct and Nov all sold out!

Eddie Zauner in Unit 26 has a timeshare week at Mabula Private game Reserve (which is 34km along the Thabazimbi Road from Bela-Bela (Warmbaths).

It is a 4 bedroom, 2-bathroom unit (Bush House 4) in the Bush Lodge Camp. It sleeps 8 and is available in week 44, from Friday 3rd November to Friday 10th November. There are more details on the Internet and Eddie can answer any queries you may have. The levy is R14 483.00 and includes free game drives. The week could also be split into a Weekend (Fri/Sat/Sun) or Midweek (Mon to Fri).

For any longer-term interest Eddie would be willing to sell this week as he will need to give up it's use due to ill health. Please give him a call on Intercom 126 or 011 465 6147.

Cheers
