That's 16 languages reflecting all Broadacres residents, My...we are a multilingual bunch!

Chris

Well here we are at the close of an eventful year.

Looking back on 2017: in our village alone there have been a number of milestones (in no particular sequence). Our first Centurion; a wedding between 2 residents; a shipwreck party; the opening of the splendid new Lifestyle Centre and then the opening of the Frail Care floor. Of course, one can also talk about all the new residents who have joined the happy campers here; the very many village activities; the amazingly well stocked library; and I have to mention the weekly Wednesday social dinners, each one with its own story to tell and then there are the special social evenings where we celebrated for instance Robbie Burns, St George, our Heritage, and Valentine's to name a but a few when many residents dressed appropriately for the function. You need not look too far to see why we have the slogan.....

At this time, I have to say thanks to my tireless, energetic ResCom team and to all of the volunteers running the specific activities ... each of you are a Godsend. This village would not be the amazing group we all enjoy, so to you all, I say a BIG THANK YOU for all your time, effort and commitment. It is really appreciated.

And so to 2018! What is in store? What I can tell you is the hospitality portfolio team have drawn up a really full activity calendar for the year. So, relax during the final days of 2017 and be ready for a full active programme in 2018. May it be a wonderful personal year for each of you! A year abounding in health, fun, and making wonderful new friends and beautiful new memories.

"May you be a blessing to others and be blessed yourselves. I wish you a HAPPY NEW YEAR" Cheers, Graham Langmead

Staff Christmas Appeal by Cecil Fann

Once again, the generosity and goodwill of Evergreen Broadacres Residents came to the fore this December. On behalf of ResCom I would like to thank sincerely everyone who contributed to the Staff Christmas Appeal Fund.

The contributions exceeded all expectations and collections of the past four years, to reach the magnificent total of R 26 750.00

At a small function on 15th December 2017, envelopes containing a message of thanks and good wishes and a cash amount, were handed to all the 5 Evergreen staff and the 29 contractors employed here.

Graham Langmead made a short speech of thanks in his inimitable style, while I had the pleasure of handing out the envelopes.

There was much hilarity, coupled with heartfelt appreciation from the recipients. Their thanks go to all of us.

All in all, a delightful conclusion to the year.

SOCIAL MATTERS (as always thanks to Kiloran for the brilliant photos)

Kiloran Townsend (No 63) is still looking for some more sponsors for R40 donations towards the plastic covers for her A3 photo albums. She wishes to acknowledge contributions from Bob and Anna Haselum and Chris and Sue Edwards. These will help to make a future record and history of Evergreen Broadacres and where we have come from.

We have some new Residents who we would like to say hello to:

In No 40, Hi and Howzit to Neville and Valerie Slaughter, he is from Durban and she is from Manchester, a warm Evergreen welcome to you both.

At No 102, you will find Dawn Hyams, who was previously in Alewynspoort. Don't know where that is? Well... you have to have lived in the South of Johannesburg to qualify! It's in the Kliprivier / Walkerville area. Welcome Dawn, we hope you will be happy here.

Guess who turned 80 very quietly, like the lovely lady she is. Thank you for being you, Judy McLaren. We all admire your lovely demeanour. Congratulations, may you have many more happy birthdays.

I will be holding a Computer and Cell Phone clinic in 2018, to help anybody with any technical problems they may have. I don't profess to know all the answers, but, I think I can put you on the right road to sorting any queries out.

Street Party by Penny Rab

Sparrow Lane will never be the same and I hereby apply to have the name changed to Hooligan Alley!

On about the 20th, the main culprits (Lesley Veiz, Sandy De Villiers and myself) decided that it would be a great idea to start off Christmas Eve on the 24th with a street party.

All the residents came along with their folding chairs, a couple of benches were pulled out and I had my sun lounger so was very comfortable. We all had to bring our drinks and a packet of crisps but of course, some industrious souls made lovely snacks as well. The only people missing were those who had gone away for the Festive Season (6 in all). So, a few "outsiders" were invited namely the Murrays and their sister in law who was visiting from England. The Therons and Idonea Prentice. Also, the Blandin De Chalain's delightful daughter who was full of fun. We started at 6.00 and thought the party would finish by about 7.00 but we finally packed up after 10.00 and stumbled off to bed. Gunter Veiz had brought out his disco lights and our Wild Olive tree had flashing lights so it all looked extremely festive. Sadly, no one took photographs (where was Kiloran?!) We took up the width of the street and although someone had put up one of those hazard triangles, it wasn't really necessary as no one could have driven past us. All in all, it was an amazing evening and we are already planning the next Street Party on Hooligan Alley!

I would like to start showing the series 'The Crown' on the large TV in the Clubhouse. This is for residents who have not got DSTV or have missed this excellent series. It is about the life and times of the British Royal Family and portrays the Queen and her family from her marriage in 1947 up to present. Claire Foy plays a very convincing Queen Elizabeth and Matt Smith partners her as The Duke of Edinburgh.

The plan is to show each 1-hour episode on Thursday mornings at 10 am. The only problem I can see is that the kitchen will be closed for tea or coffee. So maybe bring a morning tipple instead.

I will be starting from Thursday, the 4th January 2018 with Series 1 Episode 1. Each episode will have subtitles in English and the sound is well balanced and clear.

I hope to see you there. Chris Edwards

We took a trip to the new Makro store at Riversands before Christmas. What a revelation! All the aisles are wider, the shelves are well stocked, lovely natural lighting, it's much closer than Woodmead and best of all............. no big crowds.

Remember, Tuesdays are pensioner days and you have to register your card at the client services desk before you can get a discount at Riversands even if you have registered elsewhere. (It only takes a minute).

Our Honeymoon trip to UK – Catherine and Dick:

We started at a farm in Peasemore, West Berkshire, the home of friends where the Panhard veteran car lives throughout the year. We stayed at a delightful country pub called 'The Crab & Boar' in the heart of the farming countryside. Dick and his son Russell spent 5 fun working days preparing the car (with my small contribution, polishing the brass lamps) for the big day for the London to Brighton Veteran car run, the oldest motoring event in the world, on Sunday 5th November. The car was then trailered to London on the afternoon of 4th November to our overnight hotel in London, where we enjoyed a lovely evening together with my grandson who lives in London.

The highlight of our stay in Berkshire was a visit to the Water Mill Intimate Theatre at the village of Bagnor where we saw the play 'Under Milkwood' by Dylan Thomas which we thoroughly enjoyed.

It was an early start from the hotel for the 20-minute drive in the Panhard to Hyde Park for the start of the run. What a wonderful sight to behold, all those pre-1905 cars, and the number of spectators, the drivers and their families, some in costumes of the Victorian era, an amazing atmosphere - a worthy commemoration of the 1896 celebration of the emancipation of the motor car, when the first London to Brighton Veteran car run took place.

We started off on time, and although cold, it developed into a beautiful sunny day. We were overwhelmed by huge crowds lining the route, some gathering at pubs and raising their glasses as we drove past, some cheering especially at the sight of the South African flag (the only SA entrant).

We reached the finish line shortly before 3pm in sunshine, to qualify for the finishers medal, after stopping at the Crawley check point for coffee and pastries compliments of Harrods, and at Staplefield for the usual family and friends gathering with hot soup and coffee provided by Dick's daughter Allison who lives in Surrey.

Driving up to the ceremonial finishing arch on Madeira Drive, with the approach lined by cheering crowds to complete Dick's 22nd run, a fitting end to a most memorable day, the highlight of our honeymoon.

The first British owner of the car was one Leslie Bucknall who visited Paris in August 1901 to purchase the Panhard. The naming of the car was the occasion of quite a little ceremony, with Bucknall's little daughter Vivienne performing the christening of "Le Papillon Bleu" (The Blue Butterfly). The Blue Butterfly has an impressive record in the London to Brighton, having participated in the inaugural commemorative run in 1927, and in total has completed the course over sixty times.

The rest of our holiday was spent in Surrey with Dick's family, who arranged a very special wedding lunch, and treated us to some wonderful sightseeing in Guildford and Godalming. The Autumn colours of the trees lining the country lanes and in the Winkworth Arboretum in Godalming were spectacular (my home town).

After a wonderful and most memorable holiday, its always good to be home – at Evergreen!

Just after the start. The building site in the background is Big Ben!

Congratulations to Kiloran Townsend and Wally Davey on winning the photographic competition which was run by Evergreen Cape Town. The entries were selected from those entered throughout 2017, of flowers in the various Evergreen villages.

Evergreen Book and Coffee morning, 12 December 2017

About 25 Evergreeners gathered for the last Book Morning of the year, which was also the first in our new clubhouse. The venue was comfortable, even cosy, and directly opposite our new, magnificent library.

Libby Baker briefly reviewed the year's activities, which was filled with interesting book reviews and inspiring speakers. She also thanked everyone for their enthusiastic participation and support throughout the year, especially, during the move from the old to the new library. The packing of the books, which we anticipated would take at least a day, was accomplished in two hours, a record time, and a truly wonderful achievement. Then virtually just days before the opening of the Clubhouse, permission was given to us to unpack the books in our new library. This took a little longer than two hours, there were only four of us, but it still got done reasonably quickly – and we were grateful for the opportunity to do it ourselves.

The Book and Coffee mornings will continue on a bi-monthly basis, i.e. every second month. This was the popular choice according to the responses gathered from Judy Stuart's questionnaire. However, all your ideas and suggestions for these meetings would be most welcome.

Isabel Labuscagne thanked residents for all the donated books, which since 'the move' have been pouring in. More than 250 fiction books had been processed and shelved in the centre isle [left]. These will eventually join the main library shelves – but now the top shelves will also be used. To reach these top shelves, please use the three-step 'ladder', it's light but very sturdy.

Pat Bayley discussed the non-fiction section and proposed that with the extra space available, the categories under which these books are catalogued be changed or extended. She then highlighted some of the newer and more interesting books that have recently been donated.

Elske Fann, Isabel Labuscagne and Libby Baker also reviewed their choice reads of 2017. A short summary of these reviews will be printed and displayed on the library shelves.

And then it was time for the Library Christmas lunch. The Bistro team provided a delicious cold buffet, beautifully served with all the Christmas trimmings. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Pat Bayley had thoughtfully brought several bottles of wine which added to the merriment. Also enjoyed were Lynn Turner's delicious meringues filled with cream and berries – yummy!

The lucky draw for a book voucher [what else?] was won by Bee Elliot. Bee, enjoy the book of your choice, and to all our readers may we wish you a merry Christmas and a Happy New Year filled with love and good cheer.

Robert Goddard's trilogy featuring James Maxted [Max]. His quest to solve the mystery surrounding the death of his father, leads him into a world of espionage, treachery and murder. The books can be read as stand-alone novels or in the sequence - The Ways of the World, The Corners of the Globe and The Ends of the Earth. The first two books are in our library.

- 2. Clare Boylan's Emma Brown is the completion of a novel begun by Charlotte Bronte in the 1850s. It is written using Charlotte's own phrases and style of writing and gives an accurate sense of the time, a time in which women and children had no voice or power.
- 3. The Book of Joy, which chronicles a week in the life of two joyous people, the Dalai Lama and Archbishop Desmond Tutu. They met in India to celebrate the Dalai Lama's 80th birthday and spent their time together discussing how it is possible to live a life of joy in the face of adversity. The book details their discussions, provides recent scientific findings in the science of happiness, and describes daily practices that can anchor one's own emotional and spiritual life.

For all phase 3 residents

You have probably heard about a box which can be used to stream movies, TV shows and live TV to your own TV through your fibre cable fitted in your unit and by subscribing to Vox. I have been extensively testing and using an Android box system for 9 months. I am so pleased with the results to the point where I have discontinued my DSTV subscription.

Since I started using this system there are several new commercial streaming systems coming onto the market. These vary from R399 once off for Openview HD (it is rubbish) to the Telkom LIT and Cell C "Black" offerings, which are run using relatively expensive monthly subs. There is also "Kwese" which costs R1599 for a box and R129.99 per month.

The boxes I have sourced from China are called Alfawise and are high-end performers which can be purchased for around $70 each. Add to that post and insurance about $4 then VAT and Duty (can be up to 34%, it has been lower depending on the clerk!), plus R300 for local items (Microsoft wheel mouse, plus short HDMI and Ethernet cables). The software apps are free and obtainable on Playstore etc.

If you would like a demonstration of my system and it's capabilities please give me a call on Ext 1089 or Whatsapp 084 582 9129.

"Never Squat With Your Spurs On!" - Will Rogers

Will Rogers, who died in a 1935 plane crash in Alaska with bush pilot Wiley Post, was one of the greatest political/country/cowboy sages this country has ever known.

Here are some of his sayings:

- 1.. Never slap a man who's chewing tobacco.
- Never kick a cow chip on a hot day.

- 3.. There are two theories to arguing with a woman. Neither works.
- 4.. Never miss a good chance to shut up.
- 5.. Always drink upstream from the herd.
- 6.. If you find yourself in a hole, stop digging.
- 7.. The quickest way to double your money is to fold it and put it back into your pocket
- 8.. There are three kinds of men:

The ones that learn by reading.

The few who learn by observation.

The rest of them have to pee on the electric fence and find out for themselves.

- 9.. Good judgment comes from experience, and a lot of that comes from bad judgment.
- 10 If you're riding' ahead of the herd, take a look back every now and then to make sure it's still there.
- 11. Lettin' the cat outta the bag is a whole lot easier'n than puttin' it back in.
- 12. After eating an entire bull, a mountain lion felt so good he started roaring. He kept it up until a hunter came along and shot him.

The moral: When you're full of bull, keep your mouth shut.

ABOUT GROWING OLDER ...

- First ~ Eventually you will reach a point when you stop lying about your age and start bragging about it.
- Second ~ The older we get, the fewer things seem worth waiting in line for.
- Third ~ Some people try to turn back their odometers. Not me. I want people to know 'why' I look this way. I've traveled a long way, and some of the roads weren't paved.
- Fourth ~ When you are dissatisfied and would like to go back to your youth, think of algebra ...
- Fifth ~ You know you are getting old when everything either dries up or leaks.
- Sixth ~ I don't know how I got over the hill without getting to the top.
- Seventh ~ One of the many things no one tells you about ageing is that it's such a nice change from being young.
- Eight ~ One must wait until evening to see how splendid the day has been.
- Ninth ~ Being young is beautiful, but being old is comfortable and relaxed.
- Tenth ~ Long ago, when men cursed and beat the ground with sticks, it was called witchcraft. Today it's called golf.
- And, finally ~ If you don't learn to laugh at trouble, you won't have anything to laugh at when you're old.

Yesterday I got my permit to carry a concealed weapon.

So, today I went over to the local Bass Pro Shop to get a 9mm handgun for home/personal protection. When I was ready to pay for the pistol and ammo, the cashier said,

"Strip down, facing me."

Just need to wear underwear more often.

Making a mental note to complain to the NRA about the gun control wackos running amok, I did just as she had instructed. When the hysterical shrieking and alarms finally subsided, I found out she was referring to how I should place my credit card in the card reader! As a senior citizen, I do not get flustered often, but this time it took me a while to get my pants back on. I've been asked to shop elsewhere in the future. They need to make their instructions to seniors a little more clear. I still don't think I looked that bad!

My thanks as always to all the contributors...have you got something to share? e-mail to me at:-chrisandsue291@gmail.com

Cheers for now.

Chris

Best wishes and warm regards to you all for the forthcoming year.
