COMMUNIQUÉ - 111

Book Club Report Back

25 February 2019

Dear Residents,

BOOK MORNING – 19 February 2019

What a delightful morning spent in good company with interesting people, excellent reviews and the most delicious eats!

A few library matters were discussed

On a sad note, Kathy Möhlig has resigned from our team due to personal reasons [go well, Kathy, we will miss you]; but, happily, we have gained four new helpers and welcome aboard Lynn Turner, Judy McLaen, Pru Hall and Bob Haselum.

Library users were requested to:

- Place your returned or donated books in the correct baskets and do not remove books from the Donations Basket.
- Take any of the old magazines on the bottom shelf of Non-Fiction shelves. Those remaining will be donated to hospitals, clinics, etc or recycled.
- Report any faulty books, DVDs, CDs or audiobooks. Leave the item on the desk next to the log book with a short note saying what was wrong.
- Understand that we may follow up on borrowed books or other items that have been out for a long time. This is meant as a gentle reminder only.

Books Reviewed:

Roald Dahl, Boy, tales of childhood, an autobiography. [Maira Theron]

Margaret McCrory, A Brief Affair. [Elske Fann]

Lucinda Riley, The Angel Tree. [Tess Sleight]

Bill Browder, Red Notice. [Marilyn Maclachlan]

Stuff, an “Appy” magazine. [Chris Edwards]

Lisa Scottoline, After Anna. [Sue Edwards]

Our thanks to all the reviewers, their talks were well done, interesting and informative. Many thanks too to Judy, Jean, Norma and another who provided the tasty eats.

Our next Book Morning will be on 16 April 2019.

We hope to have an interesting speaker, so diarize this date.
