Weather & Seasons

The longest day of the year is in June and usually falls on June 20 or June 21. The Summer Solstice ushers in astrological summer and the period between June 1 to August 31 is considered meteorological summer. During this time, the weather is mild across most of the Northern Hemisphere. June's full moon is called the strawberry moon

There is no other month on the calendar that begins on the same day of the week as June. Also, the day of the week the sixth-month ends on is the same day of the week as March every year.

The best revenge is to be unlike him who performed the injury.
