

RWC PREDICTOR

As we eagerly await the start of the Rugby World Cup on 8th September and our first game on the 10th, we thought we could inject a little friendly competitiveness into the World Cup and came up with a prediction game, very similar to the well-known on-line SUPERBRU prediction game.

Below is a short introduction on how it will work. It is very simple and you don't have to be a Nick Mallet or a Rassie Erasmus to play or to do well. It's a lot of fun, adds some edge and 'gees'

If you are interested in participating please contact me or reception directly to collect an Entry form and a game prediction sheet.

An entry fee of R50 per player will be charged which can be also paid at reception, this will go towards buying prizes and an informal 'get-together'

Results will be displayed on a notice boards at our "Bok Corner" at the large TV area, and by WhatsApp - please indicate on the Entry form if you would like to be part of the WhatsApp group. This will only be to update results and an administrated group.

An overall Evergreen and a 'Best in the Village' player will be announced after the World Cup final, 28 October 2023.

HOW IT WORKS?

A prediction sheet will be issued per player on which predictions are made per match. Submit your predictions at reception or by email. You don't need to predict all outcomes at once, as long as you get the pick for each game in by the start of play or as communicated for games over weekends.

HOW DO I PREDICT?

This is very simple. All you need to predict is:

- The outcome of the game. "Who you think will win."
- By "what margin" the team will
- in by or zero if you predicting a draw

RESULTS

Each week will be seen as a 'Round' and an update will be shared on the Monday after each round. The Player with the highest score for the round will be announced as the 'Player Of The Round'.

Should there be a tie at the end of the tournament, the player who has won the most "Player Of The Round" awards will be announced as the Overall Winner.

HOW DOES THE SCORING WORK?

Points will be allocated to each player as follows:

- 5 POINTS for a correct winner predicted.
- 3 POINTS for a winning margin of 5 points or less of the prediction.
- 1 POINT for a winning margin of 10 points of the prediction.
- 1 BONUS POINT for an exact prediction.
