

Medi-Response
when your life depends on it

TRAINING: FIRST AID LEVEL 1

Knowing what to do in a medical emergency is a life skill that is valuable no matter who you are, where you are or what you do.

Medi Response is serious about first aid. We know that it could mean the difference between life and death and, while everyone may have a few laughs during the training, trainees will leave us well equipped to cope with some of the most common life-threatening medical situations.

Our hands-on 2-day Level 1 First Aid course covers, among other things, the following medical emergencies:

- CPR
- wounds and bleeding
- head and spinal injuries
- asphyxia
- unconsciousness
- epilepsy
- burns
- diabetes
- shock.

Arm yourself, your employees and your colleagues with the knowledge they need to save a life.

Next Course Dates:
10 - 11 November 2016

Cost:
R750 per person
A training manual is included in the price.
